

We are both delighted with our double extension and the standard of work undertaken in its building.

We initially had Steve and the boys to build our conservatory base in 2003 and owing to the high standard of work asked them to return.

We would highly recommend Steve and his team to any potential customers. Two and a half years on from the construction of our extension and the quality is still there to be seen. Numerous people passing our house have in fact stopped to inquire as to who undertook our building work. We have been happy to pass on the recommendation each time.
